

P&O Day 2021

Philip King, Senior Orthotist, South east coast

I spent my early years wearing a weight relieving full length calliper and started my orthotic career as a technician making orthoses. I then went to the University at Salford to train and qualified after my 5 years in 1982

Seeing all ranges of disability and all ages means every day is always something new or

I meet patients of different ages with vast and varied disabilities or needs including diabetes, neurological, polio, biomechanical, orthopaedic, age-related learning difficulty, Downs syndrome

I have been an orthotist for 35 years now have been senior level and past orthotic commercial manager for some big national companies and private companies.

other healthcare professionals.